DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-20 and 49-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kim et al. (US 6,681,947). Referring to Fig. 1, tear lines 48 and 49 form a strip when pull tab 52 is pulled and tear stop 51 ends propagation of the tear line to prevent separation of the strip from the closure.

The strip 53 is seen to extend partially around the perimeter of the cap in the circumferential direction. At least a portion of the line of weakness extends along the tension ring where they intersect.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Markley (US 4,934,546). Tear stop 56 prevents strip 58, which is formed when the skirt 33 is torn, from being separated from the skirt.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 21-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim in view of Clark (WO 00/40474).

Kim discloses the claimed water bottle and closure system except is silent regarding a protective sheath covering the upper portion of the bottle. The strip 53 is seen to extend partially around the perimeter of the cap in the circumferential direction. At least a portion of the line of weakness extends along the tension ring where they intersect.

Clark teaches it is known to provide a water bottle with a protective sheath covering the upper portion of the bottle including the cap.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply the teaching of a protective sheath to the water bottle and closure system of Kim. Doing so protects the bottle from dirt and bacteria that could contaminate the potable water when the bottle is placed in a water cooler for dispensing the water.

6. Claims 21-27 and 35-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Markley in view of Clark.

Markley discloses the claimed water bottle and closure system except is silent regarding a protective sheath covering the upper portion of the bottle.

Clark teaches it is known to provide a water bottle with a protective sheath covering the upper portion of the bottle including the cap.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply the teaching of a protective sheath to the water bottle and closure system of Markley. Doing so protects the bottle from dirt and bacteria that could contaminate the potable water when the bottle is placed in a water cooler for dispensing the water.

Conclusion

7. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F.R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Various prior art disclosures teaching features similar to those disclosed and/or claimed are cited for their disclosures.

9. In order to reduce pendency and avoid potential delays, Group 3720/80 is encouraging FAXing of responses to Office Actions directly into the Group at (571) 273-8300. This practice may be used for filing papers not requiring a fee. It may also be used for filing papers which require a fee by applicants who authorize charges to a PTO deposit account. Please identify the examiner and art unit at the top of your cover sheet. Papers submitted via FAX into Group 3720 will be promptly forwarded to the examiner.

10. It is called to applicant's attention that if a communication is faxed before the reply time has expired, applicant may submit the reply with a "Certificate of Facsimile" which merely asserts that the reply is being faxed on a given date. So faxed, before the period for reply has expired, the reply may be considered timely. A suggested format for a certificate follows:
